THE CAUSE OF COLDS

Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds.

If people would only properly fortify and strengthen their system, about 90 per cent, of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided. These troubles are simply the result of weakness, which produces a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane, which is as an internal skin of the body. When this skin is weakened, it becomes infected with germs which are carried through the system by the blood. These parasites attack and break these delicate tissues and set up a soreness which produce what is in reality an external scrofula.

The only thing that will cure coughs and colds and prevent pneumonia is a medication which is absored and carried by the blood so that the diseased membrane is disinfected, cleaned, soothed and healed.

We have a remedy which we honestly believe infallable and unsurpassable for the prevention and cure of coughs, colds and all catarrhal condition. It is the prescription of a famous physician, who has an enviable reputation of 30 years of cures gained through the use of this medicine. We promise to either effect a cure in every case or make no charge for the medicine. We urge everybody in Emporium who has need of such a medicine to try Rexall Mucu-Tone.

It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not absolutely positive that we could substantiate our claim in every particular, and we see no reason why anyone should hesitate to accept our offer and try it. We have two sizes of Rexall Mucu-Tone. Prices 50c and $1.00. Sometimes a 50c bottle is sufficient for a cure. As a general thing, the most chronic case is cured with an average of three large bottles. Remember, the medicine will cost you nothing if you are not satisfied in every particular. Mrs. M. A. Rockwell, Emporium, Pa.

Mince Pies Like Mother Made.

Chop fine two pounds of cold boiled lean beef and mince to a powder a pound of beef kidney suet, sprinkling it with flour if it seems disposed to stick. Seed and cut in half two pounds of raisins, and wash and pick over carefully a pound of sultana raisins and two pounds of cleansed currants. Be sure that they are free from grit and dirt before you let them out of your hands. Peel and chop five pounds of apples, and shred three-quarters of a pound of citron. Mix these all together, with two tablespoonfuls each of mace and cinnamon, a tablespoonful each of allspice and cloves, a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, two and a half pounds of brown sugar and a tablespoonful of salt. Put with them a quart of sherry and a pint of brandy and pack in a stone crock. If you do not use either of these liquors put cider in its place. The mince meat should mellow for a week at least, or better, two or three, before it is used. When it is made up it would not be the pie of my childhood or family tradition if it were not baked in and open crust with strips of paste, the edges zigzagged by a "jigging iron," laid lattice pattern across the top. In my younger days I thought all mince pies were born so, as it were, and although I have since then eaten good mince pies with solid top crusts they never taste quite as they should. They lack the criss-cross top.—The December Delineator.

"A Pair of Country Kids."

We have all enjoyed Uncle Josh and Si and all the other old and ancient crop of country characters who come to the city to get buncoed and incidentlo purchase a carpet sack full of hay from a gentleman in a large checkered suit and a fierce black mustache. These scenes and characters have become as familiar te us as "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It is therefore with pleasure that Manager Butler announces the coming of an entirely new rural play that is a novelty and with its principal interest in a pair of up-to-date country youngsters who manage to present an evening of lively amusement in their wildest and fondest hopes. "A Pair of Country Kids" will give you more enjoyment for your money than any of this class of entertainments. At Emporium Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 12.

English Spavin Liniment removed Hard, Soft or Calloused Lumps and Blemishes from horses; also Blood Spavins, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring Bone, Stifles, Sprains, Swollen Throats, Coughs. etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. A wonderful Blemish Cure. Sold by L. Taggart, druggist. 32-6m

Hot Shot From Driftwood.

Editor Press:—

The attempt of the Elk County Gang to extend their operations to Cameron county on Tuesday, Nov. 3d, was not a howling success, for which we owe our thanks to the many honest Democrats, as the whiskey element of the Republican party fell in with the gang and tried by any means, fair or foul, to win out. If they are satisfied with the position they have taken, so be it, as there are enough decent men in the two parties to put the bug on them at any time. As eternal vigilence is the price of liberty we should be on our guard at all times and ready to meet them. The election of Judge Wykoff was the most refreshing incident of the day. Really it should never have been a matter of doubt, for when the distinctively bad element of a community line up against a candidate for public office it is certain to be demonstrated that the decent element are not only far is more numerous but that it is entirely capable of taking care of itself.

REPUBLICAN.

Tremendous Sacrifice Sale.

The attention of our readers is directed to the full page advertisement of Mr. Jasper Harris, the energetic Fourth street Clothier. His immense stock of fresh goods, ordered before the business depression struck our country (now happily rapidly disappearing) and rather than carry over any of these goods has made a deep cut to the core in all departments. His great sale commences on the 15th of November and lasts for fifteen days. Read his big advertisement in this issue and note the bargains. Mr. Harris word is always good.

The Speakership Contest.

Several candidates have shied their castors into the field for Speaker of Pennsylvania Legislature. According to the Philadelphia dailies the number of candidates already favorably mentioned only four or five gentlemen are seriously considered as available, or standing a ghost of a show against Speaker McClain. We are pleased to note that Hon. Josiah Howard, of Cameron county, without any effort of his part, has been very favorably commented upon as a candidate for Speaker because of his fair and honorable record, strict business principles and ability, thereby making him an ideal candidate for the business and material interests of the state. We do not know that Mr. Howard is itching for the Speakership but if the Representatives of Pennsylvania elect him they can rest assured that his conduct of the position will be for the good of the entire State.

Good Cigar on Hockley.

We enjoyed an elegant good ten cent cigar on Taft's election, at the expense of Editor Hockley, who wagered a box on Bryan with our sedate friend Kuehne, and lost of course. Mr. Kuehne enjoys a good smoke as much as we do.

Official Congressional Vote.

The Return Judges of this (21st) Congressional district met at Clearfield on Tuesday and computed the vote of the district. Mr. J. P. McNarey, corresponding secretary of the Republicon county committee of Cameron county was appoined Return Judge for this county. The following is the official count:

First Anniversary at R. Kuehne's Great Store.

One year ogo last Friday Mr. R. Kuehne came to Emporium and established, in the new and handsome brick block, erected by our townsman, Mr. W. H. Cramer, an establishment that is a great credit to Mr. Kuehne and an honor to our county, as well as Emporium From the first week of its establishment our citizens were profuse in their praise and welcomed an up-to-date merchant, as Mr. Kuehne has proven himself to be. He has labored zealously for the up-building of our town and encouraged other merchants to brush up. He is no "knocker" and has the good-will of all citizens. The Anniversary Sale, last Friday and Saturday attracted throngs of our citizens to Emporium's Greatest Store, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Many were the compliments bestowed onthis enterprising merchant and hearty good wishes for the future prospeaity of this popular store, the pride of Cameron county.

Sudden Death of B. Frank Hall.

The Philadelphia papers yesterday morning, announce that during a spell of temporary melancholy, resulting from the effects of sun-stroke several months ago, Mr. B. Frank Hall, of St. Marys shot and instantly killed himself on the train, Tuesday evening, when near Lancaster, Pa.

He had been acting strangely for several days, at his home at St. Marys, when Judge Harry Alvan Hall asked him to take a trip with him to Philadelphia, thinking to place him in a sanitarium, under the care of a specialist.

They had just returned from supper in the dining car, after the train had passed Lancaster and passed into the smoking room of the chair car and lit their cigars. Frank excused himself to the Judge and stepped into the toilet room and locked the door. Instantly pistol shots were heard and Judge Hall quickly broke open the door, only to find that his brother was dead. Deceased was well known in Emporium, having visited here often years ago. Especial sympathy is extended to the afflicted family and the aged mother, now in her 91st year. The funeral will be held at St. Marys on Friday, from the old home. Deceased had resided of late years mostly in Philadelphia and New York and travelled extensively, in fact he had only a few weeks ago returned from Scotland. He is reported quite wealtby from the sale of mining property. Politically deceased was a Republican.

Solid Away Ahead.

Our old friend Edward M. McFadden, of Cameron, was a PRESS business caller on Monday and made himself solid with ye editor away into 1910. He conducts the New Cameron House, opposite the depot at Cameron, and holps himself in readiness at all times to take care of the traveling public. We remember him intimately since we were boys, when he was employed in Geo. Manley's shop, and his friendship has continued all these years. His bad politics is his only fault, as far as we see it.

Card from Mr. Cummings.

EDITOR PRESS:—Through your columns I desire to express my gratitude to all friends who so cordially supported me during the campaign just closed, with their votes and influence. I desire to thank all, regardless of politics, and wish to assure them that words cannot be written strong enough to convey my gratitude. "With malice towards none and charity for all," I remain,

Very Gratefully,
JOHN CUMMINGS.

$50,000 Fire.

Medix Run's big general store was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Loss $50,000; small insurance. Oil lamp explosion caused the fire.

BOIL IT!

That terrible disease typhoid fever having suddenly come to the surface in Emporium, greatly alarming our citizens, the State Board of Health has written to Dr. H. S. Falk, their representative for Cameron county, instructing that precautions be taken. To guard against an epidemic it is strongly urged that every drop of WATER or MILK be boiled for twenty miuutes before using same. The fearful scourge of fever that infested Ridgway last year left so many vacant chairs in the homes of that section, should be a warning to all our citizens.

The following cases are reported to the PRESS up to Wednesday noon:

Mrs. E J. Smith and child, Maple street.

Max F. Balcom, Sixth street, Asst. Teller in the First National Bank.

Harry Smutz, 14 years, old W. Fifth street.

Leon Hout, W. Sixth street.

Miss Inez Logan, 13 years, Wood St.

Thos. Smith, Jr., 19 years, Seventh street.

E. J. Rogers, West Creek.

Our Borough Board of Health should PROMPTLY confer with the Burgess and Council and take every step to abate the disease. This is no time for delay.

Rummage Sale.

The Presbyterian ladies will conduct a rummage sale in Parson's Bazaar, to begin Tuesday, Nov. 17. The ladies solicit from their friends of whatever denomination, articles of any kind, especially second hand clothing. As one day will be set apart to conduct "A Country Store," they solicit from the neighboring farmers any products of the soil, such as potatoes, cabbage, apples, etc., or livestock such as pigs, chickens, etc The "Store" will be conducted on Saturday, Nov. 21, the last day of the sale.

If the people will bring their goods to the Bazaar either on Saturday or Monday preceding the sale, there will be parties on hand to receive them. Or by leaving word either at the store of John Day or J. F. Parsons, goods will be called for.

The ladies will highly appreciate a liberal response from the people. The sale will be held each afternoon and evening of the week but on Saturday it will be conducted all day.

Religious.

Preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath by Rev. Joseph Stockton Roddy, of Harrisburg, Pa., and on the following Sabbath Nov, 22, it is expected that Rev. H.M. McDermott, of Port Kennedy, will fill said pulpit. Both of these gentlemen are considered able preachers.

First Methodist Church.

Rev. W. Emerson Karns, of St. Marys, will preach in the First Methodist Episcopal Church next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Epworth League services at night, but no preaching services in the evening.

Gonductor Morton.

We regret to learn that our old friend Mr. D. B. Morton passenger conductor on Pennsy (Buffalo division) is in poor health and has been compelled to lay off and rusticate at his Sizer Run farm in this county. He came to Emporium on Monday, accompanied by his good wife, for medical treatment. Hope he may be restored to sound health for we need all such reliable gentlemen in this county.

A Success.

Our Candy Kitchen has proven a success and we will continue our candy sales every Saturday during the season. See our adv. and low prices in this issue.

J. B. MEISEL.

Resnad Club.

About forty of our young people have organized a dancing club and named it "Resnad Club." They meet twice a month at Theatorium.

Explosion at Keystone.

About 7:40 this morning, Emporium received a slight shock, when the Keystone Powder Company's glycerine house "fired," destroying the building. Fortunately no lives were lost, everyone having ten minutes to escape.—Some excitement prevailed until it was learned all had escaped. The damage will be repaired at once.

The Lotus Glee Club.

In explanation of the many queries concerning the non-appearance of the Lotus Glee Club, we would say, that it was purely a mix-up in dates. The manager of the Club had received the customary notice from the Bureau to appear in Mauch Chunk, Oct. 28, and Emporium, Oct. 29. But inadvertently the manager booked the dates, Oct. 29th and 30th. On Oct. 29th, the Company arrived at Manch Chunk, a day too late there, and too late to make connections for Emporium.

A Deplorable Defeat.

The defeat of Hon. R. P. Habgood, in McKean county, for the legislature, is a stinging disgrace to McKean county and is universally condemned by the better class of citizens of the State, who believe in fair play. Brother Layman of the Port Allegany Reporter very properly expresses our sentiments when he says: "Personally I would rather sit on a snow ball in hades, than on the right hand of the Father, were the seat gained by the methods by which the Hon. Robert P. Habgood was destroyed and his char acter assassinated."

High School Election.

For the purpose of gaining knowledge and "learning how to vote," the High School of Emporium conducted an election, Nov. 3rd, using the regular election sample ballots for the purpose. The following was the result:

Taft, 46; Bryan, 13; Soc., 4; Porter, 45; Grim, 10; Barclay, 41; Walker, 5; Kennedy, 4; Blair, 4; Howard, 42; Egan 13; Judd, 43; Norris, 14; Wykoff, 39 Cummings, 17; Lewis, 42; Kreider, 42; Bailey, 11; Minard, 13; Fulton, 41; Walker, 45; Brennan, 14.

We believe, if these elections can be properly conducted, they will result in much good, for the boys can instruct the father, who has not the benefit of an education.

Busk Work.

Mr. E. Raymond Cook, who has been away from home since the 18th of August, appraising Port Allegany, East Sraudsburg, Tunkhannock and Jamison City tanneries, came home on Nov. 4th and remained over Sunday with his parents. He started for Brookston on Monday, to appraise the tannery there.

Pocket Book Lost.

China's Unwelcome Guest.

China has troubles of its own, and one of them is the presence in that country of the Dalai Lama, the head of the Buddhist faith, whose traditional home is in the sacred city of Lhassa in Tibet. Several years ago when a British expedition forced its way to and into the holy city the Dalai Lama gathered his voluminous skirts about him, assembled a big and gorgeous retinue, shook the dirt of the town from his sandals and set out for regions where his privacy would not be disturbed. He took refuge in northern China, and he has been on Chinese soil ever since. Apparently he has conceived a liking for travel, for he has moved about a great deal, his latest procedure being a ceremonious visit to Peking, where of course he was received by the imperial authorities as became his state and his position in the religious world. But it seems that the Chinese government is getting a little tired of the visitor. It was all very well to have him as an honored guest for a short time, but he has manifested a strong desinclination to return to his home. What makes matters worse is that the hundreds of retainers who follow him about are a rather unpleasant lot. A Peking dispatch describes them as "a wild, disorderly, unkempt-looking crew, giving no impression of their religious affiliations." As they live on the country, insist on being well cared for and are not above creating very lively disturbance if they do not get what they want, their presence is not an unmixed joy to the kindly and hospitable but peace-loving Chinese.

An examination of candidates for the new women's nurse corps of the United States navy was recently held in Washington. Of those who passed, 20 young women have been selected to take a preliminary course in the Navy Medical school. There they will study for six months, at the end of which time they will be examined again and, if they pass, will be assigned to one of the 18 naval hospitals in the country as nurses. It is intended that they shall be the nucleus of a corps which will eventually number 150 highly trained nurses, some of whom will be stationed in the naval hospitals in Yokohama, Honolulu and Manila. The woman selected to organize the new corps is Miss Esther V. Hassan, who is not only an experienced nurse, but has seen service in the relief corps in Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines and various army camps in the United States.

The truth about us as a people lies somewhere between the constant warnings against corruption and pleas for altruism from idealists like President Tucker of Dartmouth and the flattering pronouncement of a learned French woman recently arrived in this country for her third long visit. "As a people," she said, "your ideals and your moral tone are ahead of any European country; individually you are apt to be disappointing. But the fact alone that here one constantly hears reference to 'service,' and the desire and intent to render 'service'—that serving has been made, however recently, a public ideal, strikes the foreigner forcibly."

Cheese must have been a rather dear or scarce article of food in 1502, for it is recorded in the "blackbooks" of the Honorable Society of Lincoln's Inn that at Easter term, 1502, it was "agreed by the governors and benchers this term that if any one of the society shall hereafter cut cheese immoderately at the time of dinner or suppper, or shall give cheese to any servant or to any other, or shall carry it away from the table at any time, he shall pay four pence for each offense. The butlers of the society shall present such defaulters weekly, under pain of expulsion from office."

There will not be a wireless station in Washington on top of Washington's monument. There are yet a few places left in the modern human heart in which pure sentiment has still the better of bald utility, and it does seem a trifle shabby to turn a testimonial to the Father of His Country, supposed to be erected by a grateful nation, into a self-supporting institution.

FINDS MORSE AND CURTIS GUILTY

JURY IN FAMOUS TRIAL AT NEW YORK CITY RENDERS ITS VERDICT.

THE BANKERS GO TO PRISON.

The Jury Recommended Clemency in the Case of Curtis, but Made No Such Appeal for ex-King of Ice Trust.

New York City.—Charles W. Morse, until a year ago a dominant figure in the world of finance, and Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, were found guilty Thursday night in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court on charges of misapplication of funds and falsifying the books of the bank. There was also the additional charge of conspiracy against the prisoners, but the jury acquitted the men on this count.

Within five minutes of the time the jury had rendered its verdict Judge Hough had refused to entertain a motion for bail and had committed the two bankers to the Tombs prison. Judge Hough said that he would hear any motion the lawyers for the prisoners desire to make at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning. His decision made it compulsory for the incarceration of Morse and Curtis in cells in the Tombs prison until today.

The federal statutes provide a minimum penalty of five years' imprisonment for falsifying the books of a bank and a penalty of two years' imprisonment for misapplication of funds. No alternative but imprisonment is provided for conviction on the charge of falsifying the books of a bank. The maximum penalty on this charge is ten years' imprisonment. The jury recommended clemency for Mr. Curtis, but made no recommendation in the case of Mr. Morse.

There has been wide interest in the joint trials of Morse and Curtis on charges growing out of the failure of the National Bank of North America. It was brought out in the testimony that Morse had made large loans from the bank through so-called "dummies" and that Curtis had enabled him to do so. The money thus obtained was used to finance the Morse ice pools and steamship operations.

United States Attorney Stimson, who has had charge of the prosecution of Morse and Curtis, said after the prisoners had been taken to the Tombs that, according to his computation, the prisoners had been convicted on 54 counts, all of which are combined in the charges of misapplication of funds and making false entries in the books of the bank. The latter charge also included the charge of making false reports to the comptroller of the currency.

Curtis is hoping for a suspended sentence because of the aid he gave to the government attorney. When on the stand Curtis frankly told of all the financial operations in which he and Morse had been associated. This fact, coupled with the plea for clemency made by the jury, might, he thought, secure for him a suspended sentence.

The financial career of Charles W. Morse was among the sensational developments of modern finance. Rising from successful operations in the ice business, Morse soon acquired a reputation for company promoting and trust organizing. At the time of his gaining control of the Bank of North America he had already acquired control of a number of local and out of town banks which became known as the Morse chain of banks. At the height of his fame, he was director in 26 corporations and banks.

SAYS HE SPENT $2,800.

Vice President-elect Sherman Files a Statement of His Campaign Expenses.

Utica, N. Y.—Vice President-elect Sherman on Tnursday forwarded to Albany for filing with the secretary of state a statement of his expenses in the campaign just closed. In his communication Mr. Sherman expresses the opinion that he is not as a matter of fact obliged to make such a statement. He files one, however, in order that there may be no question about it. The statement shows:

Contribution to Oneida county Republican committee $750; contribution to Republican state committee $500; contribution to Republican committee $50; to Harry E. Devendorf, private secretary, for postage, telegrams, printing, stationery, pictures, frames, traveling expenses, expressage and other incidentals, $600; traveling expenses, including railroad fare, Pullman accommodations, porters' fees, carriage hire, hotel bills, etc., $900. Total $2,800.

Boston, Mass.—The will of the late George F. Parkman of this city, bequeathing $5,000,000 to the city of Boston for the maintenance of public parks and $500,000 to numerous institutions was allowed Thursday by Judge George in the probate court.

RAILROADS GAIN A VICTORY

SECURE INJUNCTION TO PREVENT REDUCTION IN RATES.

Three Federal Judges Issue an Order to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chicago, Ill.—Federal Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker sitting in the United States circuit court Friday issued a decree restraining the interstate commerce commission from enforcing an order effective November 10, to railroads in the Missouri river territory to reduce their rates nine cents a hundred pounds on first class freight from the Atlantic seaboard and involving also differentials all through the classification.

Washington, D. C.—Considerable surprise was expressed by officials of the interstate commerce commission on receipt of information that the United States circuit court at Chicago had granted even a temporary injunction in what is known as the Missouri rate case. The complaint from which the order of the committee originated, developed into one of the most important cases with which the commission has had to deal in the past year. It was brought by firms in Kansas City against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Co., and practically all of the railways doing business between Atlantic seaboard points and Kansas City. In effect, the complaint was that the rates on class commodities between Atlantic seaboard points and Kansas City were too high and that they discriminated against Kansas City as compared with many other points in the west and northwest.

MORSE IS SENTENCED.

Punishment of New York Banker Is Fixed at 15 Years' Imprisonment.

New York City.—From a cell in the Tombs prison Charles W. Morse now directs the efforts of his counsel to secure his freedom, he having on Friday been sentenced to serve 15 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of North America and making false entries in the books of the bank. Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the defunct bank, who was jointly tried and convicted with Morse, was given his liberty on a suspended sentence.

While Morse's lawyers immediately applied for and secured a stay of execution for ten days after sentence had been imposed, still it is probable that Morse will remain a prisoner in the Tombs until Monday, as Judge Hough has refused to admit the financier to bail. The Morse lawyers late Friday applied to the United States circuit court of appeals for a writ to show cause why their client should not be admitted to bail, and the writ was granted, but it is not returnable until Monday; hence it appears that Morse must remain a prisoner until the question of bail is settled on that day.

Whether a new trial will be granted Morse is problematical. Judge Lacombe granted a writ of error to the Morse lawyers Friday. This writ is returnable December 3 and is based on the usual grounds—exceptions taken by the defense during the trial and exceptions to the indictment itself. This step had to be taken before application for bail could be made, and it also leads to the argument for a new trial. The Morse lawyers say their client has instructed them to fight "to the last ditch."

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Manufacturing Plants are More Active and Many New Undertakings Have Been Started.

New York City.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Seasonable weather has stimulated retail trade, while manufacturing plants are more active and numerous new undertakings have been started. Sentiment is more hopeful regarding the commercial future, orders being placed for remote delivery, which is a noteworthy improvement over the conservative attitude formerly conspicuous. Preparations for holiday trade are on a liberal scale and there is a feeling of confidence that renders holders reluctant to do business when concessions are sought.

All the leading industries have increased output, some having already received large contracts, while others operate more freely in anticipation of orders to come. Commercial credits are extended more freely, and there is some improvement in mercantile collections.

Expected contracts for steel product are coming forward freely, stimulating the demand for pig iron, and a substantial tonnage has been ordered, including deliveries during the first half of 1909.

Efforts to make purchases at concessions are increasingly unsuccessful in the primary markets for textiles.

PRESIDENT FIXES DAY OF THANKS

PROCLAMATION CALLS ATTENTION TO GROWTH AND PROSPERITY IN ALL THINGS.

THE SOUL TO BE CONSIDERED

President Roosevelt Says We Must Smite Down Wrong and Strive for Public and Private Righteousness.

Washington, D. C.—The president on Sunday issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation, in which he pointed out the steady growth of the nation in strength, worldly power, wealth and population and that our average of individual comfort and well-being is higher than that of any other country in the world. For this, he declares, Americans owe it to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things. The proclamation follows:

By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation:

Once again the season is at hand when, according to the ancient custom of our people, it becomes the duty of the president to appoint a day of prayer and of thanksgiving to God.

Year by year this nation grows in strength and worldly power. During the century and a quarter that has elapsed since our entry into the circle of independent peoples we have grown and prospered in material things to a degree never known before, and not now known in any other country. The 13 colonies which struggled along the seacoast of the Atlantic and were hemmed in but a few miles west of tidewater by the Indian-haunted wilderness have been transformed into the mightiest republic which the world has ever seen. Its domains stretch across the continent from one to the other of the two greatest oceans, and it exercises domain alike in the Arctic and tropic realms. The growth in wealth and population has surpassed even the growth in territory. Nowhere else in the world is the average of individual comfort and material well-being as high as in our fortunate land.

For the very reason that in material well-being we have thus abounded, we owe it to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things. With a nation, as with the individuals who make up a nation, material well-being is an indispensable foundation. But the foundation avails nothing by itself. That life is wasted, and worse than wasted, which is spent in piling, heap upon heap, those things which minister merely to the pleasure of the body and to the power that rests only on wealth. Upon material well-being as a foundation must be raised the structure of the lofty life of the spirit, if this nation is properly to fulfill its great mission and to accomplish all that we so ardently hope and desire. The things of the body are good; the things of the intellect better; but best of all are the things of the soul, for, in the nation as in the individual, in the long run it is character that counts. Let us therefore as a people set our faces resolutely against evil, and with broad character, with kindliness and good will toward all men, but with unflinching determination to smite down wrong, strive with all the strength that is given us for righteousness in public and in private life.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 26th day of November next, as a day of general Thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in their churches, meet devoutly to thank the Almgihty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past, and to pray that they may be given strength so to order their lives as to deserve a continuation of these blessings in the future.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 31st day of October, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-third.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Routs Bold Intruder.

Cleveland, O.—Boldly attacking a burglar who had entered her home Sunday morning, Mrs. Nellie Geiger, 22 years, hit him over the head with a billy and put him to flight. The man was helping himself to the silverware when Mrs. Geiger was aroused. He drew a revolver as she demanded his business. Brushing the gun aside, Mrs. Geiger struck the man with a billy belonging to her husband. The burglar dropped his booty and fled.

Dismiss Schools; Lack of Gas.

St. Joseph, Mo.—One death by asphyxiation, the dismissal of all schools heated with natural gas and cold meals, as the result of no fuel, was the result Monday of the breaking, near Leavenworth, Kas., of a natural gas main with which St. Joseph is supplied most of its light and heat. The gas was shut off beginning Sunday night until 5 o'clock Monday evening. Joseph Chartrand was found dead in his room, it is thought, as the result of the fire going out and fumes escaping.

TAFT ELECTED PRESIDENT; BRYAN IS AGAIN DEFEATED

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE WILL HAVE AT LEAST 319 VOTES IN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE---OHIO AND INDIANA ELECT DEMOCRAT GOVERNORS.

REPUBLICANS SCORE VICTORY IN NEW YORK

OHIO, ILLINOIS AND NEW JERSEY ARE IN THE REPUBLICAN COLUMN---REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE A MAJORITY IN THE NATIONAL HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

New York.—The membership of the electoral college which will choose the next president of the United States remained in dispute when the official counters in Marylnad abandoned their task for the night Thursday. According to the best information obtainable the number of Republican and Democratic electors will be determined by a division of Maryland's eight votes.

Though the splitting of a state's electoral vote is unusual, it will be recalled that in 1904 Maryland elected one Republican and seven Democratic electors.

Missouri appears to be safely for Taft, to whom the latest returns give a plurality of 4,067. Conceding Missouri to Taft and leaving Maryland to be split between him and Bryan, the figures show 319 Republican electors assured and 156 Democratic.

Latest congressional returns indicate that the next house of representatives will be composed of 216 Republicans and 175 Democrats, a majority for the Republicans of 41.

The following table shows the electoral vote as indicated by returns up to Thursday night:

Taft's plurality in the state of New York is 203,495, more than 28,000 in excess of Roosevelt's plurality of four years ago. Gov. Charles E. Hughes was re-elected in New York state by 71,150.

The United States senate will retain its present Republican majority.

Judge Taft has a majority in the city of New York, the first time the big city has given its vote to a Republican presidential candidate.

The Republican pluralities fell off heavily in the middle west in a manner surprising to the Republican managers.

Representatives Payne of New York and Dalzell of Pennsylvania have been re-elected and the house of representatives probably will continue under its old regime. Mr. Payne will have charge of the new tariff bill in the extra session, which Mr. Taft will call immediately after March 5 next.

OHIO.

Cincinnati.—At Tuesday's election Ohio polled a vote that surpassed the million ballots deposited four years ago, making a new high record for Ohio voters.

Taft carried Ohio by probably over 70,000, while Harmon won by about 20,000. Such figures as have been received on minor candidates, although meager, indicate the probable victory of all other Republicans on the state ticket.

It is reasonably sure that the three constitutional amendments have failed because they did not in the aggregate reach anywhere near the required majority of all votes cast at this election, lack of interest thus having cost the state considerable money without any return in the way of settling the amendments.

Columbus.—Latest returns show that Carl Anderson, Democrat, has beaten Congressman Grant E. Mouser in the Thirteenth district by about 2,000 votes. This makes a gain of four congressmen in Ohio for the Democrats. The delegation will stand 12 Republicans to nine Democrats.

The election of a Republican to succeed Joseph B. Foraker to the United States senate is assured by returns indicating that the Republicans have carried the general assembly by a substantial joint majority. A proposed amendment to the constitution providing for a session of the legislature in January next failed of passage. When this became known, it was said that the Democratic governor-elect, Judson Harmon, would have the opportunity to name a senator to serve from the expiration of Senator Foraker's term in March next until the following January, when the next regular session of the assembly would be held. However, it was disclosed Wednesday that the Republicans plan to ask Gov. Harris to call a special session before Mr. Harmon's term begins, for the selection of Foraker's successor. This could be called since the term of the legislature begins January 1, ten days before that of the new governor. A special session some time during January is considered essential, because of the expiration of appropriations.

Columbus, O.—Gov. Harris announced Thursday that he will call an extra session of the legislature.

According to a dispatch from Cambridge, George White, Democrat, concedes the lection of James Joyce, Republican, to congress in the Fifteenth district by 52. Congressman Albert Douglas, Republican, telephoned to Columbus that he had carried the Eleventh district by 1,200.

The Democrats gained in the congressional delegation, securing one of the Cincinnati congressmen, although Nicholas Longworth (Rep.) won in his district. In the Third district a factional fight among the Republicans aided in the election of the Democratic candidate.

Returns so far in show that the Republicans gained a congressman in the Sixth district by the election of Jesse Taylor over Matt R. Denver, present Democratic member. The Republican claim is at least 16 members in the next Ohio congressional delegation.

Cleveland.—The count of the votes cast in Cuyahoga county was more than half finished at 10 o'clock this morning. The ratio of Republican gains shown in the early returns of Tuesday night is maintained throughout. Taft has carried the county by possibly 15,000. The whole republican county ticket has been elected, with the exception of Charles P. Salen.

Mansfield.—Returns indicate that Bryan will carry Richland county by 700 and Harmon by 200. Sharp, Democratic candidate for congress, will carry the county by about 500, and the vote for state senator is close. The entire Democratic ticket appears to be elected, and Kuebler, "wet" Democratic candidate for representative, is a winner over Baxter, "dry" Republican candidate.

Steubenville.—Taft carries Jefferson county by 2,000, Harris by 1,900. Hollingsworth, Republican, is elected in the Sixteenth district by 4,000. Duvall, Republican for senate, and Gilson Republican for representative, are elected. County ticket is elected.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—The Republican national and state tickets gained a complete victory in Illinois, although the pluralities will probably fall short of those obtained by the party in the campaign of 1904. Taft has carried the state by approximately 170,000 votes, although it will be some time Thursday before the exact figures can be obtained. Charles S. Deneen, Republican candidate for governor, ran far behind the national ticket, but has been elected by a plurality of about 100,000 over Adlai E. Stevenson, his Democratic opponent. Deneen's greatest losses were suffered in Cook county, which is his home.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, carried Chicago by about 8,000. He lost heavily, however, in the state outside of Cook county.

The legislature, which is to select a successor to Senator Albert J. Hopkins, will be strongly Republican, and it is likely that Hopkins will be re-elected.

Danville, Ill.—Joseph C. Cannon was re-elected to congress from the Eighteenth Illinois district by a plurality considerably above the normal. Returns are incomplete, but enough figures have been obtained to show that he will probably have a plurality of at least 10,000. The result was a surprise even to the friends of Mr. Cannon.

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln.—Returns on Tuesday's election in Nebraska are far from complete ,but seem sufficiently definite to confirm the first report that the Democrats won a sweeping victory. While the pluralities for the victorious party are not phenomenally large they are complete, the state ticket and candidates for congress in most instances running parallel with Bryan, who was expected to lead the ticket by several thousand. Complete returns from a third of the counties and scattering precinct returns from most of the remainder show that Bryan will have a plurality of 10,000 votes and Shallenberger, Democrat for governor, and the rest of the Democratic ticket will have about 9,000.

But the Democratic victory does not stop there. Five of Nebraska's six congressmen are Democratic, only one Republican, Hinshaw in the Fourth district, escaping defeat by 700 votes, although his district gave Bryan a plurality. The greatest surprise of all is the overwhelming majority the Democrats will have in the legislature.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven.—The Republicans swept Connecticut in Tuesday's election fully as completely and perhaps a little more so, as four years ago, Taft carrying the state by more than 30,000 plurality and Congressman George L. Lilley, the Republican candidate for governor, going into office by about 15,000 plurality over Judge Robertson, his opponent. All the five congressmen are Republican by pluralities equal to those of two years ago. The entire Republican state ticket is elected as usual, while the general assembly is more strongly Republican than for a good many years.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia.—At 1 a. m., with 18 counties still to hear from, the indications are that Taft has carried Pennsylvania by a plurality that will be nearer 400,000 than 300,000. The returns received show a considerable falling off in every county with the exception of two. The Republicans hold their own in the congressional districts if they do not increase their representation. There is practically no change in the Republican representation in the legislature. In Philadelphia the national ticket carried the city by about 125,000 plurality.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis.—The electoral vote of Missouri is in doubt, late returns from the city of St. Louis and from rural regions reducing the lead held by Bryan so that it is impossible to say definitely who has carried the state. The complexion of the next legislature is also in doubt, though the indications are that the Democrats will control it by four or five votes on joint ballot. This would assure the re-election of William J. Stone to the United States senate. The Republican senatorial nomination is in doubt between Richard C. Kerens and John C. McKinley.

The Republicans have apparently elected Herbert S. Hadley for governor by at least 8,000 plurality and the probabilities are that he has carried the entire state ticket with him.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis.—A radical change in Indiana's representation in the national house of representatives was the most striking feature of Tuesday election. The latest unofficial returns give the Democratic party 11 members and the Republicans two. This is a gain of seven members for the Democrats.

William H. Taft carried the state for president by about 8,000. Thomas R. Marshall and the entire Democratic state ticket are probably elected by a plurality of 15,000. As the returns come in, Marshall's plurality increases, while the vote on the Republican national ticket decreases.

The legislature is probably Democratic, which means that a Democratic successor to Senator James A. Hemenway will probably be chosen.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore.—With the official vote of one-third of Baltimore city and 21 out of 23 counties complete and estimating the missing districts on the basis of the unofficial returns, Taft had an apparent plurality Thursday night of 176. The indications were that seven Bryan and one Taft electors had been chosen.

KANSAS.

Topeka.—Returns from 59 counties, complete and incomplete, have been received. These give Taft 22,024 and Bryan 16,417. Late returns are reducing the estimated plurality of Taft and of Stubbs, Republican, for governor. Stubbs' plurality is placed at 20,000 to 25,000 and Taft's about 3,000 more. The election of Joseph L. Bristow to the United States senate is assured.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul.—It is conceded by all parties that John A. Johnson has been re-elected governor. The St. Paul Dispatch, Republican, concedes Johnson's election over Jacobson by a majority of from 10,000 to 12,000. Taft carried the state by probably 80,000.

IOWA.

Des Moines.—Incomplete returns indicate that Taft has carried Iowa by a plurality of from 40,000 to 50,000. This is a tremendous falling off from the Roosevelt plurality of 158,000 of four years ago, but it represents only a slight falling off from the normal plurality. The entire Republican state ticket is elected, probably by about the same plurality. Gov. A. B. Cummins probably carried the Republican senatorial primary over Maj. J. F. Lacey by a plurality of 40,000 to 50,000.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit.—With Taft and Sherman carrying the state by a large majority, generally estimated at about 100,000, the successful candidate for governor of Michigan is not known. Returns from the state are slower than they have been for years. Lawton T. Hemans, the Democratic candidate for governor, on the returns available at 1:30 o'clock, has an undisputed lead over Gov. F. M. Warner, but the Republican leaders assert that the late returns will overcome this lead.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston.—William H. Taft and Eben S. Draper, Republican candidate for governor, carried Massachusetts, the former by about 120,000 and the latter by about 60,000 in the light of returns from nearly three-quarters of the state. On the same returns it was evident that the Massachusetts congressional delegation remained unchanged, 11 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

The Republicans also elected their state ticket and the usual majority of members of both branches of the legislature.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton.—Revised returns give Taft a plurality in New Jersey of about 70,000. These figures, as the later returns come in, may possibly be increased to meet the plurality given Roosevelt four years ago, which was 80,598.

COLORADO.

Denver.—Estimated pluralities by counties, based on incomplete returns, indicate that Bryan and the entire Democratic state ticket, headed by John F. Shafroth for governor, carried Colorado with pluralities in the neighborhood of 5,000. The Democrats probably will control the legislature by a narrow margin, insuring the election of Charles J. Hughes, jr., as United States senator to succeed Senator Teller, Hughes having been indorsed for the position by the state convention.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington.—Republican State Chairman Dupont announced late Tuesday night that the plurality for Taft will be 3,000. The state ticket will have the same plurality with the exception of Davis for attorney general who, he stated, will be elected by 2,400. All three counties of Delaware gave Republican pluralities and the next legislature will be Republican.

VERMONT.

White River Junction.—Complete returns from the state of Vermont give Taft 39,592; Bryan 11,688 and Hisgen 719. Taft's plurality is 27,904. Four years ago Roosevelt had 40,677 and Parker 9,800, a Republican plurality of 30,677. The Prohibition vote this year shows a gain for the entire state of 45 votes over four years ago.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Wheeling.—While fuller figures Wednesday showed that Taft had carried West Virginia by a safe plurality of several thousand, the state ticket may not have gone through with him, Bennett, Democrat for governor, having the better of the argument in probably half the state. On these figures Bennett had more than 1,000 plurality, but the figure was so small that the Republicans found satisfaction in the possible overturning of that amount and they claimed the entire state ticket.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington.—The returns from rural New Castle county and from Kent and Sussex, the two lower counties in Delaware, are unusually slow in coming in, but enough information has been received to show that the entire Republican state ticket, with the exception of Davis for attorney general, has been elected. Gray, Democrat, for the latter office has probably been chosen by 2,000 plurality. Both parties claim the legislature.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco.—California probably gave Taft a plurality of more than 60,000 votes and in addition re-elceted all eight Republican congressmen and chose a Republican legislature. Judge Frank H. Dunne was the only Democratic judge elected in San Francisco and he was victorious in spite of a vigorous campaign against him by those who objected to his rulings while trying the Ruef and Schmitz graft cases.

OKLAHOMA.

Oklahoma City.—Complete returns from 40 counties in central and northern Oklahoma, received by Chairman Thompson of the Democratic state central committee, give Bryan a plurality of 13,000. The counties yet to be heard from are largely Democratic. These probably will increase Bryan's plurality to 18,000.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee.—Taft and Sherman have carried Wisconsin with a plurality estimated at 75,000, and Gov. Davidson (Rep.) has been re-elected by a plurality close to Taft's. The Republicans have elected nine out of 11 congressmen, the Democrats one, with the Fourth district in doubt. The legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican.

IDAHO.

Boise.—Meager reports showing only the trend of the voting indicate that Taft carries the state by 20,000 and the election of the entire Republican state ticket. Brady for governor should have 8,000 plurality on the basis of present indications. Legislature is in doubt.

MAINE.

Portland.—Maine gave Taft an estimated plurality of 31,500. John P. Swasey and Frank E. Guernsey, Republicans, were chosen in the Second and Fourth congressional districts, respectively, to fill short term vacancies.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville.—Bryan's plurality in Kentucky 13,000; eight and possibly nine Democratic congressmen elected, a Republican loss of two seats; this is the probable story of the election in Kentucky.

MONTANA.

Butte.—Advices from throughout Montana indicate that Taft carried the state by 3,000 votes. Charles N. Pray, Republican, is re-elected to congress by about 4,000. The governorship is still in doubt.

CONGRESS.

Washington, D. C.—The indications are that the Republicans will have about a two-thirds majority in the United States senate as the result of Tuesday's elections, or practically the same as at present. Of the 92 members of that body, 61 hold over, leaving only 31 places to fill. Of these 19 are Republicans and 12 Democrats. Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana and Maryland already have chosen Democrats and Kentucky and Vermont Republicans. The other senators to whom successors are to be elected are:

Republicans—Allison, Iowa, who will be succeeded by a Republican; Ankeney, Washington; Brandegee, Connecticut; Gallinger, New Hampshire; Hansbrough, North Dakota; Heyburn, Idaho; Hopkins, Illinois; Kittridge, South Dakota; Long, Kansas; Penrose, Pennsylvania; Perkins, California; Platt, New York; Smoot, Utah; Stephenson, Wisconsin, all of whom will be succeeded either by themselves or other Republicans.

Democrats—Clay, Georgia; Gary, South Carolina; Gore, Oklahoma; Milton, Florida; Overman, North Carolina, all of whom will be succeeded by Democrats. The only senatorships remaining in doubt are those of Ohio, Indiana and Oregon, which are now represented by Senators Foraker, Hemenway and Fulton, Republicans, and Colorado, Missouri and Nevada, represented by Senators Teller, Stone and Newlands, Democrats.

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardstown, Ky., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MODESTY.

Teacher (encouragingly) — Come, now, Willie, spell chickens.

Willie—I'm afraid I'm too young to spell chickens, teacher, but you might try me on eggs.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

LOUISE.

"A Pair of Country Kids."

"A Pair of Country Kids," a rural comedy drama, is the play announced at the Emporium Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 12, and from all reports that have reached Manager Butler the country kids are a lively pair and seem to be making a large number of friends everywhere. The play is highly spoken of as a clean up-to-date rural comedy drama, true to nature and with all those lovable folks "down on the farm" that we all remember after we have moved to the city, or that we meet every day where we have been content to remain close to nature with the homespun folks. This company is made up of real actors who can act, sing and dance and will give you an evening of genuine amusement and you will surely laugh at the Kids for they are busy constantly geting in and out of mischief.

One of the greatest strokes of enterprise by newspaper publishers is the proposal of the Pittsburg Gazette Times to pay $100 for the best solution in the mystery in Helen Mather's remarkably clever unfinished new serial, entitled "Love, the Thief," the first instalment of which will appear in The Gazette Times on Sunday, November 8, when full details of the contest are to be published.

The balance of the $500 will be distributed as follows: $25 to the person who submits the second best solution, $10 to the one sending the third best and $5 each to those who supply the 75 next best.

Thousands of people will hail this opportunity not alone as a means of earning Christmas money, but to show their ability at gathering up the ends of a strange mystery and clearing it in few words. Literary talent is not necessary as The Gazette Times offers the prizes not for literary composition, but for the best solution to the story.

Men and boys, as well as women and girls may compete. Only the employes of the publishers, in fairness to the public, will be ineligible.

Instalments of the story will appear regularly in the Sunday and daily editions of The Gazette Times to the conclusion of next to the final chapter.

Then solutions will be received during the period lapsing between that issue and the issue of the following week.

The prizes will be awarded at the earliest possible date after the Judges have determined the awards—in plenty of time to give the successful contests use of the money for Christmas.

The Gazette Times announces that manuscripts of contestants must be forworded by mail, addressed to the Prize Mystery Story Editor, care Pittsburg Gazette Times, Pittsburg, Pa. Personal interviews cannot be granted.

NEW DISTRICTS AND NEW RAILWAYS

WESTERN CANADA AFFORDS BETTER CONDITIONS THAN EVER FOR SETTLEMENT.

To the Editor — Sir:—Doubtless many of your readers will be pleased to have some word from the grain fields of Western Canada, where such a large number of Americans have made their home during the past few years. It is pleasing to be able to report that generally the wheat yield has been good; it will average about 20 bushels to the acre. There will be many cases where the yield will go 35 bushels to the acre, and others where 50 bushels to the acre has been recorded. The oat and barley crop has been splendid. The prices of all grains will bring to the farmers a magnificent return for their labors. An instance has been brought to my notice of a farmer in the Pincher Creek (Southern Alberta) district—where winter wheat is grown—who made a net profit of $19.55 per acre, or little less than the selling price of his land. 30, 40, and 50 bushel yields are recorded there. The beauty about the lands in Western Canada is that they are so well adapted to grain-raising, while the luxuriant grasses that grow everywhere in abundance make the best possible feed for fattening cattle or for those used for dairying purposes.

The new homestead regulations which went into force September, 1908, attracted thousands of new settlers. It is now possible to secure 160 acres in addition to the 160 acres as a free grant, by paying $3.00 an acre for it. Particulars as to how to do this and as to the railway rates can be secured from the Canadian Government Agents.

"The development throughout Western Canada during the next ten years will probably exceed that of any other country in the world's history," is not the statement of an optimistic Canadian from the banks of the Saskatchewan, but of Mr. Leslie M. Shaw of New York, ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury under the late President McKinley and President Roosevelt, and considered one of the ablest financiers of the United States. "Our railway companies sold a good deal of their land at from three to five dollars an acre, and now the owners are selling the same land at from fifty to seventy-five dollars, and buying more up in Canada at from ten to fifteen."

The editor of the Monticello (Iowa) Express made a trip through Western Canada last August, and was greatly impressed. He says: "One cannot cross Western Canada to the mountains without being impressed with its immensity of territory and its future prospects. Where I expected to find frontier villages there were substantially built cities and towns with every modern convenience. It was formerly supposed that the climate was too severe for it to be thought of as an agricultural country, but its wheat-raising possibilities have been amply tested. We drew from Ontario many of our best farmers and most progressive citizens. Now the Americans are emigrating in greater numbers to Western Canada. Seventy-five per cent. of the settlers in that good country located southeast of Moose Jaw and Regina are Americans. Canada is well pleased with them and is ready to welcome thousands more."

Colombia's One Iron Foundry.

The only iron foundry in Colombia, South America, is at Bogota. It is known as La Paradera and is operated on a small scale, native ores being smelted, the iron being subsequently remelted for casting purposes. There are several commercial iron deposits in the interior of the country, and one ore body situated near the coast of the Caribbean sea is now being drilled by American engineers.

320 Acres of Wheat Land IN WESTERN CANADA WILL MAKE YOU RICH

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Fifty bushels per acre have been grown. General average greater than in any other part of the continent. Under new regulations it is possible to secure a homestead of 160 acres free, and additional 160 acres at $3 per acre.

"The development of the country has made marvellous strides. It is a revelation, a record of conquest by settlement that is remarkable."—Extract from correspondence of a National Editor, who visited Canada in August last.

The grain crop of 1908 will net many farmers $20.00 to $25.00 per acre. Grain-raising, mixed farming and dairying are the principal industries. Climate is excellent; social conditions the best; railway advantages unequalled; schools, churches and markets close at hand. Land may also be purchased from railway and land companies.

Various "Schools" of Painters.

The Munich Jugend has discovered five signs by which to detect the school to which a painter belongs: (1) If he ...ts the sky gray and the grass black, he belongs to the good old classical school. (2) If he paints the sky blue and the grass green, he is a realist. (3) If he paints the sky green and the grass blue, he is an impressionist. (4) If he paints the sky yellow and the grass purple, he is a colorist. (5) If he paints the sky black and the grass red, he shows possession of great decorative talent.

SERIAL STORY

THE ESCAPADE

A POST MARITAL ROMANCE

By Cyrus Townsend Brady

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

(Copyright, 1908, by W. G. Chapman.)

SYNOPSIS.

The Escapade opens, not in the romance preceding the marriage of Ellen Slocum, a Puritan miss, and Lord Carrington of England, but in their life after settling in England. The scene is placed, just following the revolution, in Carrington castle in England. The Carringtons, after a house party, engaged in a family tilt, caused by jealousy. The attentions of Lord Carrington to Lady Cecily and Lord Strathgate to Lady Carrington compelled the latter to vow that she would leave the castle. Preparing to flee, Lady Carrington and her chum Deborah, an American girl, met Lord Strathgate at two a. m., he agreeing to see them safely away. He attempted to take her to his castle, but she left him stunned in the road when the carriage met with an accident. She and Debbie then struck out for Portsmouth, where she intended to sail for America. Hearing news of Ellen's flight, Lords Carrington and Seton set out in pursuit. Seton rented a fast vessel and started in pursuit. Strathgate, bleeding from fall, dashed on to Portsmouth, for which Carrington, Ellen and Seton were also headed by different routes. Strathgate arrived in Portsmouth in advance of the others, finding that Ellen's ship had sailed before her. Strathgate and Carrington each hired a small yacht to pursue the wrong vessel, upon which each supposed Ellen had sailed. Seton overtook the fugitives near Portsmouth, but his craft ran aground, just as capture was imminent. Ellen won the chase by boarding American vessel and foiling her pursuers. Carrington and Strathgate, thrown together by former's wrecking of latter's vessel, engaged in an impromptu duel, neither being hurt. A war vessel, commanded by an admiral friend of Seton, then started out in pursuit of the women fugitives, Seton confessing love for Debbie. Flagship Britannia overtook the fugitives during the night. The two women escaped by again taking to the sea in a small boat. Lord Carrington is ordered to sea with his ship but refuses to go until after meeting Strathgate in a duel.

"I see," returned the admiral. "Lord, what a woman that is! She has spirit and resource and readiness enough to command not a frigate, as I said before, but, by gad, sirs, a fleet! A lucky dog, Carrington!"

"The unluckiest on earth, I think, admiral," returned the baronet, warmly, "and as for me, I prefer the gentler, more womanly kind of women."

"Like Mistress Deborah, eh?" laughed the old sailor. "Well, everyone to his taste. And she went along, too, I have no doubt, under coercion."

"Admiral," returned Sir Charles, haughtily, "from the evidences I have had—"

"Over Baxter's 'Saints' Rest?" said the admiral.

"Quite so."

"Well, what do you propose now?"

"I have no proposition to make. I suppose we can't hope to find them now."

"Might as well try to hunt for a needle in a haystack as to try to find them in this darkness," said the admiral. "It'll be ten hours at least before it's light enough to see anything, and by that time they may have gone anywhere. I'm expecting orders any day for sea, and I shall have to get back to the anchorage. There's no help for it, Sir Charles. I'm sorry for you, but you'll have to take a new departure and follow the course in another way. Mr. Collier, bid Captain Beatty make the best of the way to the anchorage without further delay. I can offer you a berth yonder, Sir Charles. I have no doubt you'll want to turn in after all you've gone through and the disappointment you've met with."

"Thank you," said Sir Charles, "I do feel rather done up."

"Oh, these women," mused the old admiral as Sir Charles disappeared in an adjoining stateroom. "It's lucky that I have no greater attachment than his majesty's ships, God bless him! And then an admiral has all he can do to rule his fleet without having to take orders from a pair of petticoats—" which was the sailor's quaint euphemism for the other sex, and he did not even know that the useful article of dress he cited did not come in pairs!

A couple of hours after the arrival of the two hot-headed lords at the Blue Boar, an officer from the squadron inquired for Lieutenant Carrington. A servant carried his message up to the room where Carrington was lying down waiting for the next turn of events, and he was instantly admitted. He proved to be Lieutenant Miller, a shipmate and intimate friend of Carrington's, who had come from the Niobe to the inn for two reasons. One was in response to Carrington's urgent appeal that he act as his second in the approaching affair with Strathgate, and the other was because he bore orders from the captain of the Niobe directing Carrington to report on board at once, as the Niobe was under orders for the Mediterranean without delay. It was already quite late in the afternoon when Mr. Miller laid his orders before Carrington.

"I can't go," said the earl, resolutely, "I have to meet Strathgate in the morning and beside that I can't leave the country now."

"Captain Careysbrook is in a good deal of temper about the matter now. The orders were sent on to your house and followed you here. He should have gone two days ago and he's fuming like a caged lion."

"I can't help it. You'll have to go back and explain the circumstances to him and tell him if he can't wait until to-morrow morning, he'll have to sail without me."

"But that's disobedience of orders," returned Miller.

"Man," said Carrington hotly, "don't you see this infernal scoundrel Strathgate ran away with my wife—"

"With your wife!" exclaimed Miller.

"Well, not exactly," replied Carrington, "that is, they went away together. Oh, hang it! I've got to kill him and I have to find my wife if it costs me my commission. I can't go. No, you needn't remonstrate with me," ran on my lord, hotly, "just simply tell him that that's the end of it and if he wants to order me under arrest, he can do it. I'll face a court-martial rather than—"

"Well, I'm awfully sorry, Carrington," returned Miller, "but I can't stay with you. I am ordered to return to the ship without delay."

"All right, but I must have some friend here. Let me have Parkman. He's on the Renown. She's not under orders, is she?"

"No, I believe not, although since the Britannia sailed—"

"Where did the Britannia go?"

"We don't know anything about it. A small boat came alongside, looked like a soldier in her, and then the ship got under way, signaled to us to disregard the motions of the commander-in-chief and left Lascelles in command."

"A small boat with a soldier in her," mused Carrington. "Which way did the Britannia go?"

"At nightfall she was going up the channel in the wake of a big merchantman."

"By heavens!" roared the earl, "that'll be Seton."

"I don't understand what you mean," said Miller.

"Never mind," returned Carrington, visibly perturbed, "send me Parkman.

Plunged Him Into a Black Fit of Jealousy of Seton.

Ask Captain Lascelles to let him off for the night. Explain to him—"

"And what shall I say to Captain Careysbrook?"

"Say anything you like, except that I can't come off, and I'll explain when I can."

"That won't do much good," said Miller, "but I'll do the best I can."

He shook the other's hand and left the room.

"Seton on the Britannia! I see it all now," mused Carrington. "What a fool I was not to think of it myself. They'll overhaul her without fail. The Britannia will be back to her anchorage at daybreak and I'll be there." He stopped. "No, I have this cursed duel on hand. I wonder if it couldn't be postponed!"

For the moment his intense love for Ellen overbore every other possibility. The thought that at last she would be restored to him made him for the moment forget the pressing demands of the early morning hour, but further reflection plunged him into a black fit of jealousy of Seton. It was he who had the wit and address to capture Lady Carrington. It was he who would reap the reward that might come to him from his skill and daring and devotion. And Carrington swore to settle with him as soon as he had arranged matters with Strathgate.

His reveries were interrupted toward evening by the arrival of Parkman, to whom Lascelles had readily granted permission to go ashore for the night. Parkman had brought with him a case of dueling pistols, having been informed by Miller of what was on. The two at once settled down to business, but not until Carrington had catechized Parkman as to what was known about the movements of the admiral and the Britannia. Nothing further was elicited than what he had obtained from Miller. A challenge was duly drawn up and Parkman carried it to Lord Strathgate.

The baron of Blythedale had a seat a few miles east of Portsmouth. He was a bachelor, a congenial spirit and an old friend of Lord Strathgate's. He had agreed to act as Strathgate's second. He and Lieutenant Parkman soon came to an agreement. The encounter would take place in the park at Blythedale, where the combatants would be free from any possible interruption or from prying eyes of any sort. Strathgate, as the challenged, had the choice of weapons, and selected swords, to Carrington's great satisfaction. The other preliminaries were soon settled. A surgeon was also designated, and Parkman came back to report the progress of events, most agreeable, from his point of view, to his principal.

Carrington was as expert with the sword as with the pistol, and he made no demur to any of the conclusions of the seconds. All he wanted was to have his deadly enemy opposite him, with no one to intervene. He had duties to perform before he went to rest. One of them was the writing of a letter to Ellen, which, after he had signed and sealed it, he gave to Parkman, with instructions to turn it over to my Lady Carrington in case the approaching encounter should terminate fatally for my lord. When Parkman asked where Lady Carrington was to be found, Carrington replied bitterly that in all probability she could be seen on the Britannia in the morning with Sir Charles Seton.

"And hark ye, Jack," said Carrington, clapping his hand on his friend's shoulder, "say to Sir Charles Seton that as regards the unsettled difference between us, I'm ready to meet him here and now, if he'll come ashore in the proper mood for an encounter. I might as well finish up all my enemies in one day and leave myself free for dealing with my wife, or get a clearance for Davy Jones' locker myself from one or the other of them."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Witnesses in the Coppice.

Carrington was up early the next morning. Parkman had procured a carriage, and, as the meeting had been arranged for seven o'clock, the two drove out to Blythedale hall, whither Strathgate had preceded them the night before. The way lay along the strand, and Carrington was not too preoccupied to notice that the Niobe was gone and the Britannia had returned. His wife was probably on that ship. He looked long and earnestly toward it. If he had consulted his inclinations he would have repaired aboard of it at once and asked forgiveness for all his folly and injustice toward her, but the conventions of life—spelled in this instance by honor—constrained him.

He gave a thought, too, to the frigate which had departed without him. For the first time in his life he had failed in his duty. Kephard was a kind old man, and well-affected toward Carrington, who had been a midshipman under him, but with the admiral duty was always first and he knew that there would be no condoning his offense. He expected an order of arrest before the day was out. Thereafter he would come before a court-martial.

To what a sorry pass he had brought his fortunes by his own unmistakable folly! In the bright light of the fresh, brisk morning, he saw Ellen in her right relation to affairs, a woman, brave, strong, noble, true. What if she did not shine amid the hothouse conventionalities of the fast and vapid life of the crew whom he had gathered at Carrington. Instead of being ashamed of her, he should have rejoiced from the bottom of his soul that she was so frank and fresh and free. What a splendid woman she was! Whatever she did, how well it was done! No veteran of a thousand exciting nights over the gaming table could have played with more coolness and daring than she did in that famous duel at cards with Strathgate. And, although the minuet was outside of her accomplishments, how swiftly had twinkled her flying feet when she danced the sailor's hornpipe. It carried him back to slanting decks and fresh breezes and bright skies. Would they ever return? Would he himself return unscathed from this adventure? It was by no means certain, for Strathgate was a man of proven courage; he had demonstrated that, and his reputation as a sword player was deservedly high.

HIS ARTISTIC SOUL REVOLTED.

Young Painter Saw Period of Suffering While Earning Needed Money.

The young artist, almost on the verge of starvation, had just accepted an order from an elderly spinster to paint her portrait. When the terms and appointments had been fixed and the spinster was descending the rickety studio stairs, a student friend of the young painter, who had overheard the deal, rushed in from the next room to offer his congratulations.

To his surprise, however, he found his friend sitting downcast before his easel, his head in his hands.

"Why, Francois, why so downhearted?" he inquired, stopping short to stare at the artist. "Didn't I just overhear you bagging an order to paint a face at 1,000 francs?"

"Yes," replied Francois, sadly.

"And your need of the money is something fierce, isn't it?"

And the other nodded.

"Then, my friend, you should be kicking the ceiling in your lucky strike!"

The artist now lifted his head slowly and gazed piteously at his companion. "Melvin," said he, "did you get a glimpse of her?"

"No."

"Then," said the other, allowing his head again to fall into his hands, "you do not know, my friend, what torture I will have to undergo from morning till night for a whole week studying that face!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Every man owes it to himself to learn about this wonderful trucking section where the winters are summers and the summers delightful and where a man can make his independence on a 10-acre farm.

You will be under no obligation to us if you write for the information, but on receipt of your letter I will reserve for you the moment I get your letter or postal stating that you "want particulars," the nearest farm to the town of Hilliard, then unsold, and hold it for 15 days.

We want every man who can to go to North Florida during the month of November, to investigate this fruit and truck land.

My proposition to pay round trip fare is good only November 17th and 24th, 1908. Write to-day and address me personally.

Hilliard is 30 miles from Jacksonville.

THE ELECTRICAL WORLD

WELDING BY ELECTRIC ARC.

Powerful Current That Melts Iron and Steel in a Few Minutes.

The person in the accompanying illustration is not a character in one of Jules Verne's romances, but a workman engaged in welding iron by one of the new processes employing the electric arc. The head must be completely protected to avoid injury from the intense radiation—hence the grotesque head-gear. Mr. C. B. Auel, of the Westinghouse Company, who describes these new processes in the American Machinist, tells us that there are two chief types—the Benardos, which uses but a single electrode, and the Zerener, in which two are employed. He says:

"For small work and for work where a certain degree of accuracy and refinement is necessary, the Zerener process will give rather better results than the Benardos, for the reason that in the former the arc is, comparatively speaking, under close regulation, while in the latter there is only such regulation as may be obtained by hand. Nevertheless, for general work the Benardos process, on account of its simplicity, is to be preferred.

"It is necessary to conduct the welding in an inclosure, as the intense rays of the arc seriously interfere with any other work in the immediate vicinity. For a similar reason, when the Benardos process is employed, welder should be thoroughly shielded, eyes as well as body. A head-gear of canvas or of stovepipe is readily made and fitted with a small projecting window of thick colored glass. Gloves provided with long gauntlets will answer for the hands, while the ordinary clothing, if not too thin, will suffice for the rest of the body. Exposure to the direct rays of the arc causes an irritation of the skin in effect much like sunburn; the skin reddens and subsequently peels, but with no more serious consequences. A short trial will, however, be more effective in demonstrating the desirability of care in this matter than any words of caution.

"When the Zerener process is employed, however, the welding is usually on a much smaller scale, and it is then only necessary to protect the eyes by a pair of suitable colored glasses."

The method of operation in the single-carbon process is thus described by Mr. Auel:

"Assuming now that everything is in readiness for making a weld, the operator places himself in front of the casting, holding in one hand the carbon (negative) electrode by means of an insulated handle, and having within convenient reach of the other hand the material to be used as filler, either iron rod, . . . bits of broken steel castings, or small punchings from boiler plate. He then pulls the hood down over his head, touches the carbon electrode to the casting, . . . thereby closing the circuit and thus producing the arc. As soon as the arc is sprung, the carbon electrode should be withdrawn to a distance of at least two inches, more if possible, and the arc continued until the melting temperature of the metal is reached.

"If it is not possible to maintain the arc at the proper distance, or if it is too intense, the depth of the triangular plates in the water rheostat or the number of grids in the resistance should be altered accordingly. The arc, instead of being concentrated on one spot, should be given a rotary motion in order to heat the casting thoroughly in the vicinity of the proposed weld.

"When the melting temperature is reached, either the iron rod, small bits of steel castings, or punchings of boiler plate are fed into the boiling metal. This feeding is continued, the arc meanwhile also being maintained, until the weld is completed. To make the casting conform to a particular shape, or to give it a smoother finish or closer grain, the surface of the weld may be hammered while cooling."

ELECTRIC HAIR DRYER.

Device Which Will Prove of Great Service to My Lady.

Probably one of the most satisfactory of all the electric toilet articles is the hair dryer. The machine shown in the illustration is made of aluminum, weighs but 2¾ pounds, and drives a strong current of either cold or warm air by the simple turning of a key. Turned one notch, a strong current of cold air is forced out of the tube. Turned two notches and the air becomes warm. The turning of the key to the second notch switches in a resistance, and the current of air flowing through this resistance generates the heat which warms it.

Like all other electric household articles it is connected to a convenient electric lamp by an electric cord.

AN ELECTRIC MOTH TRAP.

Powerful Light and a Suction Pipe Get Three Ton of Insects in One Night.

The Saxony authorities have discovered what would seem to be an excellent way to put an end to the caterpillar plague which is having such a disastrous effect on the local forests. They have discovered a method to catch the brown nun moths that lay the eggs from which the caterpillars come in enormous quantities. They make use of what they call the electric light trap. This consists of two large and powerful reflectors placed over a deep receptacle and powerful exhaust fans. The whole has been erected on top of the municipal electric plant at Zittau. At night two great streams of light are thrown from the reflectors on the wooded mountain sides half a mile distant.

According to the Electrical Review the results have been astonishing. The moths, drawn by the brilliancy, come fluttering in thousands along the broad rays of light. When they get to a certain distance from the reflectors the exhaust fans take up their work and with powerful currents of air swirl them down into the receptacle. On the first night no less than three tons of moths were caught. It has been decided to build another trap on the Rathaus tower, and the fight with the moths will be continued.

The forests of central Europe have, from time to time, been ravaged by raids of moths from Russia, whose larvae denude the trees of their foliage. The splendid pines of the Lausitz mountains are this year threatened with destruction.

the British navy and every man who becomes proficient will be awarded one. It is worn on the right sleeve just above the elbow. A fully qualified wireless telegrapher wears one star above the badge; a first-class petty officer, two stars, and a chief petty officer, a small crown.

Testing Electric Furnaces.

At the Heroult electric iron smelter on the Pitt river in Shasta county, California, a number of new types of electric furnaces are being tested on a small scale, instead of working with one large furnace alone, as has been heretofore the plan. A bank of transformers will be ready by the time the new Lyon furnace under construction is completed. The new furnace of a capacity of 25 tons of pig iron per day is on the same plan as the original experimental one. It is claimed that it will remove the objections found to the Heroult furnaces first erected.

Balloons and Bullets.

Experiments have recently been made in Berlin to ascertain the height at which a balloon may be considered immune from hostile rifle shots. Captive balloons were sent up, and they were shot at from angles of from 15 deg. to 45 deg. Balloons traveling at a height of from 600 to 2,000 yards could be hit only once out of six shots, while they were absolutely safe at a height of 3,000 yards. Even when struck, the damage to the gas bag was so small that the balloon was able to continue its journey for hours before the escaping gas made a landing necessary.

FARM AND GARDEN

THE NITROGEN PROBLEM.

It Is Not Solved as Easily as Some Farmers Suppose.

The nitrogen problem is solvable, but not solved so easily as some people suppose. One speaker at a farmers' institute said: "A rotation including sufficient clover or other legumes will solve the nitrogen part of the fertility problem for us."

This statement does not cover the whole situation, by any means, declares Farmers' Review. How can a rotation with legumes settle the nitrogen question when the legumes cannot be made to grow in the first place? And often, even when they do grow well, it is several years before nodules develop on the roots, without which nodules no increase in nitrogen can be made.

It very often happens that the cheapest way to supply nitrogen is to buy it, even at 15 cents a pound. It takes several years to get nitrogen from the air by the help of leguminous plants, even under the best conditions; that is, to get enough of it to count for much.

The process of gathering nitrogen from the air is one of growth and decay. A soil deficient in nitrogen cannot produce the plants desired, and if they are produced they will be so small and weak that they will amount to nothing when they decay. Therefore before plants can be grown at all luxuriantly it is necessary to add to the soil nitrogen as well as other elements of plant food.

It is better to add to the soil a liberal amount of some form of nitrogenous fertilizer than to take chances on gradually developing the nitrogen producing bacteria in the soil. Therefore in the very first stages of solving the nitrogen problem, it may be necessary to make considerable purchases of chemical nitrogen.

But after the first good start has been made, it should not be necessary to again have resort to commercial nitrogen. There are many plants that are hardy and produce pods, and all pod-producing plants are nitrogen gatherers. Either clover or peas will stand severe conditions of drought, if they are well rooted. Clover and alfalfa will both stand winter conditions. Where red clover will not do well, alsyke clover or white clover will.

In some sections, cow peas and soy beans will do well and can be grown for plowing under. Southern localities are, however, likely to reap the most benefit from these two plants. This must be said about cow peas and soy beans, that they have a limited root system and so if only the roots are plowed under they do not give the beneficial results secured from the plowing under of a clover sod.

In any rotation carried on for the purpose of keeping up the supply of nitrogen, the leguminous crop must be brought in often enough to give the results desired. How often this leguminous crop should be grown will depend on the natural richness of the particular field in nitrogen and also on the kinds of crops being generally grown as well as the quantities of crops taken off.

KEEPING SEED CORN.

See That It Is Thoroughly Dry Before Freezing Weather.

Never let it freeze before it is dry. We have had seed corn exposed to a temperature of 30 degrees below zero without injuring its vitality, and have had it ruined at ten degrees above zero. We would not recommend kiln drying for the general farmer, as this is only practical where a grower is in the seed business.

We have found, says Farm and Home, a very convenient way is to take four pieces 4x4, six feet long, set them up in a square, and nail laths on them two and two opposite, leave a six-inch space between the laths so the corn will have plenty of ventilation. Lay your corn on this to dry, and if thoroughly dry it can lay there all winter.

Cement and Steel Culverts.

The price of lumber in the near future will stop the idea of building bridges and culverts of wood. Cement and steel must take its place. There is nothing cheaper than cement, if durability is figured. It is cheaper than corrugated steel, glazed sewer pipe, lumber or cast-iron pipe. Bridges will come to be made of arched spans of concrete, steel beams cement covered, or steel beams with checkered steel floors. Piling, piers and abutments can be made of concrete and will stay for all time.

BRIEF HINTS.

Never put soil or sods on top of a gravel road. It simply means mud in wet weather and dust when the season is dry.

Supply the hopper so the mill will grind, no matter what kind of an animal your mill may be.

Be good to yourself by being good to your stock.

LAME BACK PRESCRIPTION

The increased use of whiskey for lame back rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

Toris compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

15 YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Burning, Painful Sores on Legs—Tortured Day and Night—Tried Many Remedies to No Avail—Cured by Cuticura.

"After an attack of rheumatism, running sores broke out on my husband's legs, from below the knees to the ankles. There are no words to tell all the discomforts and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He used every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, one after the other, without any good results whatever. One day I ordered some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them and in three weeks all the sores were died up. The burning fire stopped, and the pains became bearable. After three months he was quite well. I can prove this testimonial at any time. Mrs. V. V. Albert, Upper Frenchville, Me., July 21, 1907."

The Doctor's Fee.

The average man will give a lawyer $300 to $500, together with a lifetime's praise, to keep him out of the penitentiary for from two to ten years, and at the same time he will raise a phosphorescent glow and a kick that can be heard around the world if a doctor charges him $50 to $100 to keep him out of hell for a lifetime. We are the only people under God's ethereal tent to-day who keep open shop 24 hours each day and 365 days in each year. We are also the only laborers to keep on working for people who do not pay. I can carry my part of charity with as good a grace as most men. I can go through rain, snow or mud and do my best, provided the case is one of worthy need, but to reward continually downright rascality, willful drunkenness and wanton laziness is getting out of my line.—Texas State Journal of Medicine.

From Frying Pan to Fire.

Some years ago, when the late Judge John Henry McCarthy was a candidate for the bench, says the Hebrew Standard, in a district populated by both Hebrews and Irish, there was displayed in an East Broadway window a banner which read: "Vote for John Henry McCarthy—the friend of the Hebrew." An Irishman on his way to the polls espied the sign and grew indignant. He remarked, "Vote for 'the friend of the Hebrews?' I'll be hanged if I will. I'll vote for the other fellow." And he did, the "other fellow" being Henry M. Goldfogie.

PUZZLE SOLVED.

Coffee at Bottom of Trouble.

It takes some people a long time to find out that coffee is hurting them.

But when once the fact is clear, most people try to keep away from the thing which is followed by ever increasing detriment to the heart, stomach and nerves.

"Until two years ago I was a heavy coffee drinker," writes an Ill. stockman, "and had been all my life. I am now 56 years old.

"About three years ago I began to have nervous spells and could not sleep nights, was bothered by indigestion, bloating, and gas on stomach affected my heart.

"I spent lots of money doctoring—one doctor told me I had chronic catarrh of the stomach; another that I had heart disease and was liable to die at any time. They all dieted me until I was nearly starved but I seemed to get worse instead of better.

"Having heard of the good Postum had done for nervous people, I discarded coffee altogether and began to use Postum regularly. I soon got better, and now, after nearly two years, I can truthfully say I am sound and well.

"I sleep well at night, do not have the nervous spells and am not bothered with indigestion or palpitation. I weigh 32 pounds more than when I began Postum, and am better every way than I ever was while drinking coffee. I can't say too much in praise of Postum, as I am sure it saved my life." "There's a Reason."

"Yes, siree, Bill, times is changed since you an' me was doin' our courtin'," said Adoniram Corntop, with a note of sadness in his voice, to old Andy Clover, who had come over to "set a spell."

"When we was doin' our courtin', Andy, a gal thought she was bein' treated right harnsom if a feller bought her ten cents' wuth o' pep'mints once in awhile, an' if he tuk her to any doin's in town she didn't expect him to go down into his jeans to the tune of a dollar or two fer ice cream an' soda water an' candy at fo'ty cents a paound. My son Si tuk his duckey-doodle to the band concert in town yistiday an' there wa'n't a quarter left of a dollar bill he struck me fer time he got home. Beats all the way young folks throw the money away nowadays. I tell ye times is changed mightily since we was boys, an' the Lawd only knows what the end will be with a feller layin' out 75 cents on a gal in one day."—Puck.

Unusually Severe Drought.

The water in Lake Champlain during the recent drought reached the lowest point recorded in local history, nine feet below high water mark. Steamers were obliged to abandon many of their trips on account of the impossibility of making landings at the docks. The mountain brooks became almost dry, and the beds of some of the largest rivers were mere threads of water. The drought and forest fires were ruinous to agricultural interests.—New York Sun.

Putting It Politely.

It was evident that the directors were very nervous. Anxiously they awaited the coming of the president, who had summoned them in haste. At length he appeared, greatly distressed.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I am very sorry to say that it is my duty to impart to you some disagreeable news. I assure you that this is the saddest day of my life. I would rather have cut off my right arm than been compelled to send for you on an occasion of this kind. It is most—"

"What's the matter?" one of the directors impatiently asked.

"The cashier has aviated."

A Cure for Poison Ivy.

Before the skin blisters scrub the affected parts with a brush and soap and water. Then apply a saturated solution of sugar of lead in 50 per cent. of alcohol. The alcohol must contain some water. Pure alcohol would not dissolve the sugar of lead. This relieves the burning of the poison ivy, and it is supposed that the alcohol dissolves the poison and the sugar of lead neutralizes it.—Suburban Life.
